

Support the Packham 3

The BBC Presenter Chris Packham has been plaguing farmers, gamekeepers and other countryside workers via his campaign group Wild Justice for many years.

When we discovered that three journalists were being sued by Chris Packham in the High Court in relation to crowdfunding for some imported tigers, we felt obliged to assist them with their Crowd Justice appeal. They are known as the Packham 3 and Packham, as Claimant, has paid for top lawyers and expensive barristers to try and crush them.

We urge others who share our opinions to back these brave men to the hilt. Further information can be found here and in numerous articles published therein.

The most important way you can offer support is via crowdfunding, via Crowd Justice which pays funds directly to the Packham 3 legal team:

There is also a Ko-Fi Page which allows Paypal payments:

Thank you for your support

You can also support them by spreading the word as widely as possible.
